Manuscripts will be considered that approach research from two or more different disciplines conveying expertise and knowledge while bringing a fresh new outlook to the topic.

DESCRIPTION:

The International Journal of Interdisciplinary Research (IJIR) encourages and supports scholarly work that focuses on research, interesting applications, and real-world phenomena that examine the nature of interdisciplinary practice. The Journal interrogates the connections between disciplinary practices and fosters dialogue between the disciplines.

The editors of The International Journal of Interdisciplinary Research welcome interdisciplinary, transdisciplinary, and multidisciplinary work that includes qualitative, quantitative, and triangulation of methodologies. Conceptual and theoretical-based papers that integrate across disciplines are especially welcome. The editors are committed to a fully peer reviewed scholarly journal. All submitted articles will be reviewed based on the following criteria: importance and timeliness of subject matter, clear statement of relevance to interdisciplinary research, insightfulness and craft of the study, advancement or development of the theoretical process, and/or the development of new theory.

SUBMISSION PROCEDURE:

An electronic version of the manuscript must be submitted in MS Word to Ahmad Tootoonchi, Chief Editor at tootoonchi@frostburg.edu. Upon completion of a review by expert scholars who serve as part of the IJIR review board, the first author will be informed of acceptance or rejection of the paper within a four month timeframe from the submission date. If the paper is accepted, the first author will receive a formal letter of acceptance along with the registration form and guidelines for publication of papers in the IJIR.

For more information and to obtain IJIR forms, please go to www.ijir.net
