

Draft Term Paper/Poster Idea

Your Draft Term Paper/Poster Idea (DTPPI) is a one paragraph description of your research topic. If you want, of course, you write more than a single paragraph. This DTPPI should explain the data and your research question. If you have some preliminary summary statistics, graphs or regression results, it is a good idea to include this.

If you are planning on working on your term paper with the same research topic (i.e., same data and similar research question) as in your poster presentation, you only need to submit one DTPPI per group. However, if an individual member of the group is planning on working on separate research question that involves a different data set, this member needs to submit a separate DTPPI.